

CRUISE CONTROL: LAW FIRM ESSENTIALS

Firm License Agreement

Vesupia Books · Anna Allard-Veillon · vesupiabooks.com · Effective upon purchase

1. License Grant

Upon purchase, Vesupia Books grants the purchasing law firm ("Firm") a non-exclusive, non-transferable license to use, edit, customize, and reproduce the Cruise Control: Law Firm Essentials materials — including the document library and the Pre-Flight training tool — for the Firm's internal business purposes, including use in client matters and staff training.

2. Seats and Location

This license covers up to ten (10) staff members at one (1) office location of the Firm. Additional locations or larger teams require a separate or expanded license — contact anna@vesupiabooks.com for firm-wide pricing.

3. Permitted Uses

Editing and adapting forms for the Firm's client matters; internal training and onboarding, including use of Pre-Flight by licensed staff; printing and internal copying in the ordinary course of the Firm's practice.

4. Prohibited Uses

Resale, sublicensing, or redistribution of the materials outside the Firm; sharing access credentials or files with any other firm or third party; publishing the materials or any substantial portion of them; offering the materials or derivatives as a competing product.

5. Ownership

All materials remain the intellectual property of Anna Allard-Veillon / Vesupia Books. This license is a right of use, not a transfer of ownership. Attribution notices within the materials may not be removed.

6. Professional Responsibility; No Legal Advice

The materials are educational and practice-support resources reflecting Washington State law as of the edition date. They are not legal advice. The Firm and its attorneys retain full professional responsibility for reviewing, adapting, and approving any document before use in a client matter.

7. Updates and Term

This license is perpetual for the purchased edition. Any corrections or updates published by Vesupia Books for this edition are included at no additional charge.

8. Relationship to Website Terms

For purchased products, this license governs and supersedes any conflicting provisions of the vesupiabooks.com website Terms & Conditions, including general restrictions on copying or modification.

Questions, additional seats, or firm-wide licensing: anna@vesupiabooks.com